

FLEXIBASE LAUNCHED AT DERBY BUSINESS SHOW

There is a new serviced office provider in town in the form of Flexibase, who have now launched the ground floor of Cardinal Square, Derby.

After an extensive fitout, Nurton Developments have opened this serviced office facility, with room available to accommodate requirements from 2 desks upwards at competitive rates with a minimum 3 month commitment. Cardinal Square benefits from reception desk, coffee area with tables for informal meetings, kitchen, meeting room and use of the courtyard garden area.

Tim Richardson from FHP Property Consultants who are marketing the scheme jointly with Rigby and Co comments:

“Nurton Developments have completed an excellent fitout providing really good air conditioned space in a very accessible location off the inner ring road, but a short walk from the City Centre. Cardinal Square is one of the best known landmark buildings in the City. Nurton are rolling out their tried and tested flexibase concepts into Derby and we would encourage anyone with an office requirement to come and have a look”.

Flexibase exhibited at the Business Event at Pride Park last week to showcase the scheme.
