Location

The Broadmarsh Car Park and Bus Station is a landmark city centre development in the south of Nottingham, comprising 1,300 parking spaces, Bus Station servicing the main bus routes both locally and nationally. The Nottingham City Library opened a new 30,000ft² located above the retail parade.

The units front Carrington Street has been fully pedestrianised creating scope for external seating (by way of a pavement licence). Carrington Street is the main thoroughfare from Nottingham Train Station through to the city centre providing strong levels of footfall throughout the day.

The Broadmarsh car park is just one of several exciting new southside developments close by over the last few years; including the 260,000ft² regional HQ for HMRC accommodating c. 4,000 workers, and several residential and student developments including the Vita Students block on Station Street housing 323 student beds.

Also close by is the Nottingham College City Hub which is a new college campus for 2,000+ students.

Approximately 50 yards from the property is the new Green Heart Gardens providing a green oasis within the heart of Nottingham City Centre.

The Property

The property benefits from an impressive full height glazed shop frontage onto the pedestrianised Carrington Street.

The units will be provided in a shell specification ready for an incoming tenant's fit out with capped electricity and water services (please note the building does not have gas).

Sprinklers have been installed.
